

Percentage Distribution of the Questionnaire for the Survey on the "Public's Views on Supervision of Cross-Strait Agreements"

Survey Date: April 9 to 13, 2014

Number of Effective Samples: 1,104

Survey Commissioned by: Mainland Affairs Council, Executive Yuan

Survey Unit: Election Study Center of National Chengchi University

1. Do you believe that institutionalized cross-strait negotiations are conducive or not to the peace and stability of cross-strait relations?

Very conducive	Conducive	Unconducive	Entirely unconducive	Don't know / no opinion
11.5%	47.3%	17.2%	10.0%	13.9%
58.8%		27.3%		13.9%

2. Do you support or not support the signing of the Trade in Services Agreement between Taiwan and the Mainland?

Strongly support	Support	Do not support	Strongly do not support	Don't know / no opinion
8.8%	33.7%	20.5%	19.6%	17.4%
42.5%		40.1%		17.4%

3. Nine months have passed since the Cross-Strait Trade in Services Agreement was submitted to the Legislative Yuan. Do you support or not support starting immediately an article-by-article review and article-by-article vote on the Trade in Services Agreement in the Legislative Yuan?

Strongly support	Support	Do not support	Strongly do not support	Don't know / no opinion
30.2%	40.1%	8.0%	7.8%	13.9%
70.4%		15.8%		13.9%

Note: The survey results are weighted, with "percentage" calculations to two decimal places and rounding to the last decimal place. The sum of the individual percentages may therefore not equal 100%. The same calculation method was adopted in the following tables without separate indication thereof.

4. The Cross-Strait Agreement Supervisory Act stipulates that the government shall communicate and consult with the public at each stage of the negotiation process. Do you think that this is conducive or not to enhancing negotiation openness and transparency and public participation?

Very conducive	Conducive	Unconducive	Entirely unconducive	Don't know / no opinion
25.3%	47.9%	9.4%	7.8%	9.6%
73.2%		17.2%		9.6%

5. The executive branch will fully communicate and consult with the Legislative Yuan at all stages before the agreement signing and respect the Legislative Yuan's procedures for review or for record after the agreement signing. Do you think that this will be conducive or not to increasing congressional oversight?

Very conducive	Conducive	Unconducive	Entirely unconducive	Don't know / no opinion
21.9%	52.0%	7.1%	6.2%	12.9%
73.9%		13.3%		12.9%

6. All future cross-strait agreements must undergo Executive Yuan review and secondary review by the National Security Council to assess national defense, technology, economic, employment, social and information security. Do you think that this is conducive or not to national security?

Very conducive	Conducive	Unconducive	Entirely unconducive	Don't know / no opinion
26.9%	45.7%	9.3%	7.7%	10.5%
72.6%		17.0%		10.5%

7. Some people say that: "If the Cross-Strait Agreement Supervisory Act stipulates for legislators to participate in the negotiations and take part in review of the signed agreement, this would be comparable to having the players also serve as referees." Do you agree or disagree with this view?

Strongly agree	Agree	Disagree	Strongly disagree	Don't know / no opinion
----------------	-------	----------	-------------------	-------------------------

16.7%	29.9%	23.2%	15.3%	14.9%
46.6%		38.5%		14.9%

8. Some people suggest that agreements previously signed between the two sides should acquire a second Legislative Yuan approval before implementation. For example, direct cross-strait transportation links should be suspended, criminal repatriation should be halted, and food safety notifications should be suspended for the time being. Do you think this would affect the people's rights and interests?

Yes	No	No opinion
69.1%	19.0%	12.0%

9. If the Cross-Strait Agreement Supervisory Act stipulates that before each agreement is signed, it should undergo a minimum 270 day waiting period in the Legislative Yuan, excluding negotiation period, do you think this would be too time-consuming? (Passive note: the 270 days do not include the negotiation time. The executive branch must submit a negotiation plan 90 days prior to negotiations and also wait for 180 days after the negotiations before the agreement can be officially signed.)?

Yes	No	No opinion
62.2%	28.9%	8.9%
